We are proud to support and work alongside a local family florist. With her experience and knowledge; all tributes will be lovingly handmade to your requirements. Whether your looking for a classic spray or wreath, or an arrangement to reflect a hobby or interest, we have a wide range of sympathy tributes to chose from.

Sending flowers is a thoughtful way of expressing your grief when somebody has died. It is a mark of love, appreciation and respect, and is an opportunity to share words of sympathy with the family or final words of farewell to a loved one.

There are no additional charges for us to arrange any floral tributes for you or your family.

When we order on your behalf, we can ensure that they arrive in a timely manner and are placed with the cortege before we leave our premises.
